Numbering System

Joseph D. & Anna (Yoder) Schrock had 13 children. Therefore, each one is given an ancestor number starting with the oldest:

Mattie J. married David Y. Yoder; their ancestor number would be 1.

Menno J. married Emma S. Yutzy; their ancestor number is 2.

Polly J. never married. Her ancestor number is 3.

Elizabeth J. married Benjamin Helmuth; their ancestor number is 4.

Katie J. married Jacob B. Miller; their ancestor number would be 5.

Rebecca J. married Levi B. Miller; their ancestor number is 6.

Daniel J. never married. Her ancestor number is 7.

Susie J. married Jacob S. Schlabach; their ancestor number is 8.

Jacob J. married Fannie A. Herschberger; their ancestor number is 9.

Lydia J. married Andrew L. Mast; their ancestor number is 10.

Jonas J. married Sylvia Miller; their ancestor number is 11.

Mary J. never married. Her ancestor number is 12.

Joseph Jr. married Lizzie Plank; their ancestor number is 13.

A descendant's number is determined by his/her order of birth in the family and also indicates which generation that person is in. For example: Mattie's number is 1, Joseph's first child and the first generation. Mattie's third child, Elizabeth's number is 1.3 and the second generation. Elizabeth's fourth child, Reuben's number is 1.3.4, the third generation. The first number is Joseph's children, the second, his grandchildren, the third his great grandchildren and on up to six generations in this book.

When a husband and wife are both descendants the first one in the lineage is used with their children.

Foreword

I had an interest in my Schrock Family history for quite some time, so when my mother passed away and they asked that someone in the family would take on the Schrock cousin circle letter for Dad's cousins, I was interested. I suggested someone update the 1971 Joseph D. and Anna (Yoder) Schrock book. Well, I got nominated for the job. I had no idea how much time and effort it would involve and thought it would be nice to go back another generation to the Daniel Schrock (Joseph's father) family. I soon discovered this was more than I could handle, so with the encouragement from others I went back to doing only the Joseph D. Schrock family. I hope not too many of you will be disappointed.

This has been very interesting, and very educational. It has been meaningful to read about the history of our forefathers coming to America and what they believed and stood for. In observing their strong Christian faith and virtues we can be challenged by this history to follow in their footsteps, and to take warning by noting their mistakes, so as not to fall into similar errors.

If God permits the world to continue to stand for several more generations where will our descendants be?

A special thanks to Sovilla Gingerich and Alta Schrock for all your help in contacting people and also for providing some last minutes stories, etc. Thanks to the many of you who encouraged me on this project, there were times I felt like quitting when I received an encouraging note in the mail.

I am disappointed there is some information I was unable to get. I tried to get the information as correct as possible but I'm sure there are still plenty of mistakes. Please forgive these and I hope you will enjoy this glimpse into our history.

A Brief History of the Schrag/Schrock Family, from Switzerland to Alsace, to Palatinate, to America

Switzerland—the Country, Bern—the Canton (State), Wynigen—the town, Leumberg & Misterberg—farms or maybe settlements. These two seem to have multiple dwellings.

These early records were taken from Church records in the town of Wynigen by Peter Schrag of Burgdorf, Bern. He was born in Wynigen in 1937.

No. 1—HANNIS SCHRAG. There is no birth record of him, but it is thought that he was born at Mistelberg in 1547. Parents, unknown. On Nov. 28, 1572 in Wynigen he was married to Maria Bartman. They lived at Breitegenegg, north of Wynigen, and were the parents of 9 children, the oldest HANNIS being our ancestor.

No. 2—HANNIS SCHRAG, from No. 1. Born in Breitegenegg, Wynigen, on Aug. 15, 1573. On May 18, 1612 he married Margret Hiltbrunner in Wynigen. They had 6 children, the youngest, NIKLAUS being our ancestor. Hannis had 4 children from a previous marriage to Barbly Louwenberger.

No. 3—NIKLAUS SCHRAG, from No. 2. Born on the Leumberg farm, south east of Wynigen, on Feb. 28, 1623. His wife's name is unknown. They were the parents of 2 children, the oldest NIKLAUS being our ancestor.

No. 4—NICLAUS SCHRAG, from No. 3. Born in 1660 in Leumberg, Wynigen. On May 30, 1684 he was married to Christina Schneider in Leumberg. They had 4 children, the 2nd one CASPER is thought to have been our ancestor. Records are a bit unsure, but it was the only thing that fitted, and is still possibly verifiable.

No. 5—CASPER SCHRAG, from No. 4. Born on Dec. 13, 1685 in Leumberg, Wynigen. In 1711 he married Elizabeth Leyenberger at Jepsheim, Alsace. Their three sons on record, Casper, Johannes Jacob, and Ulrich were born in Ingweilerhof, Zweibrucken palatinate in the years just prior to 1719, at which time the Immigrant Nicholas was born according to ship records in 1753. It is thought that he was born to these parents but there is no record available to me at this time. If by some chance they joined the Anabaptist movement at that time, then there would be no further records since they would have no longer baptized their babies.

No. 6—NICHOLAS (KLAUS) SCHRAG, the immigrant of 1753. Not much is known about him. No land deeds, tax records, etc. have been found, but in an old alms record book of Berks County, PA there is listed a sum of money paid to Den Alten Schrag in 1785. He is the only Schrag known to have fitted that description at that time.

There is a story traditionally held that when Nicholas arrived at Philadelphia, PA on the ship 'Peggy' on Sept. 24, 1753, the youngest son Casper was so weak that the oldest son John carried him on his back all the way to Berks County, a distance of maybe 70 or more miles. There is no known record of his wife, or of more than three sons, John, Ulrich, and Casper. Ulrich is our ancestor.

No. 7—ULRICH SCHROCK, from No. 6. Ulrich was born in 1740, probably at the Ernstweilerhof, a farm next to the small town of Ingweiler, close to Zweibrucken, Palatinate. After coming to America with his father in 1753, he apparently returned to Europe sometime later. He married Anna Christner, a daughter of John Christner, and came back to America on the ship Nancy and Sucky on September 1st, 1769. Their son John was 3 years old. Tradition says that John was born at Windstein, Switzerland. This is obviously a mistake, since Windstein is an upper Alsace close to the Palatinate border. The Christners were known to have lived in that area, along with Schrags and others. A letter brought by her brother John to America a year after they came from her father Hans Christner was dated May 16, 1770 at Windstein. This letter was found in the old Schrag Bible in Oregon.

Where Ulrich settled when he arrived in 1769 is not known, but at that time, Schrocks were living in Berks County. (The surname Schrock appears to be a characteristic in origin, and is believed to be associated with Germans, meaning “One who jumped or leaped.”) In 1790, Ulrich is listed in Bedford County (now a part of Somerset County) as there being 2 males 16 or older, 1 male under 16, and 6 females in the family in the 1790 Federal Census.

No records have been found of Ulrich having owned a farm or home, but his will plainly indicates that he did own property, leaving it to his wife until her death or remarriage. She did remarry to John Hochstetler, son of Immigrant Jacob Hochstetler, who was taken captive by the Indians.

Ulrich may be buried in the same cemetery as his brother Casper in Somerset County, PA. It is known that they lived in the same area.

No. 8—JOHN SCHROCK, son of Ulrich. As mentioned above, John was born at Windstein, Alsace in 1766, and came to America with his parents in 1769. His first wife is unknown, but was the mother of Yost and Elizabeth. Yost was our Ancestor. John lived in the Johnstown, PA area known as Amish Hill, later known as Westmont. It is thought that his grave was farmed over.

No. 9—YOST SCHROCK, son of John. Yost was born on April 17, 1792 in Somerset County, PA. On October 15, 1810 he married Elizabeth Yoder. They lived south of Mt. Hope, OH, where he died December 12, 1846, due to falling while driving a team of horses on the horse power for threshing, got his leg in the large gear. They had to take his leg off, later infection set in and he died from this later in the fall. Six years later in 1852, in a typhoid epidemic, his wife and three children all died in four months time. Susanna, 23-year-old twin to Daniel, died on June 3rd; 22-year-old Moses died on June 30th; 19-year-old Rachel died on July 20th; and the mother passed away on October 2nd.

NO. 10—DANIEL SCHROCK, son of Yost. Daniel was born on June 4, 1828 in Holmes County, OH. He married Elizabeth Miller, daughter of Jonas and Faronica (Miller) Miller, on November 27, 1847. He then bought his father's place and lived there till the spring of 1863. He sold his farm and moved to Iowa that spring in April. Daniel was an ordained minister.

He lived in Iowa a little over a year, then moved back to Ohio and bought a farm on the Winesburg Mt. Hope Rd. back in the field ½ mile. He lived there till February 1870, then sold out and came to Illinois that spring. He bought a farm now known as the Harvey Schrock farm.

The family moved to Kalona, Iowa in 1863, and back to Ohio the next year. Then in 1870, they moved to Arthur, Illinois, where they lived 3 miles east of Arthur and ½ mile south where Marcus and Mattie Marie Gingerich now live. Daniel was a minister in the Old Order Church, and known to help people in legal matters, such as land transactions, etc.

In September of 1890, when Daniel was 62 years old, he and a friend named Joe Helmuth traveled to Partridge, Kansas by train, arriving in the late evening. They decided to walk back along the railroad track to the second road crossing, than go north to the Bishop Christ Bontrager home for the night, who lived northeast of Partridge.

They intended to walk down the railroad tracks to the second crossing, which was the road to Bontragers. At the first crossing they rested a bit before going on. It was dark by then, and when they arrived at a dry creek crossing—which in the dark must have looked like a country dirt road—there was a bridge that went over a dry ravine. It was about a quarter of a mile from the nearest house to Partridge. Joe took the left side of the bridge, and Daniel took the right side.

About three-quarters of the way across, Daniel said, “Here is the road to Chris's, and here I go.” He stepped out into space and fell about fifteen feet, landing on his head and breaking his neck. It knocked about half of the crown of his hat loose. Joe took his cloth satchel (hand bag) and placed it under his head for a pillow, then went back to Partridge for help. Daniel lay there until 9 or 10 o'clock the next morning. They were waiting for the coroner to come out from Hutchinson, but he didn't show up for so long that they couldn't wait for him.

Squire Cassidy took charge, holding an inquest so that they could remove Daniel's body. The undertaker then came out from Hutchinson and embalmed at him at Partridge and placed him in a sealed casket with a glass top. They then placed him on a spring wagon (two-seated buggy) and kept him in Chris Bontrager's barn until early the next morning, when they took him to Hutchinson and put him on the train to be taken back to Illinois for burial. Having purchased a round trip ticket and using only half of it before death, the railroad decided to honor the other half for his return, only this time a dead man instead of alive.

Amos Jay Miller of Topeka, IN, was at the scene of the accident. He was twelve years old at that time.

Even the dog at the Schrock home acted funny before the word was received of the death of his master. The day of the funeral, they placed the casket out in the yard for the dog to take the last look at his master's body. After placing his feet on the casket and looking in, the dog went and laid down. He was never the same dog after that.

Daniel Schrock was laid to rest in the Yoder Cemetery 4½ miles southeast of Arthur. Apparently he was buried wearing his best Sunday suit, because an older faded one (perhaps his wedding suit of 1847) has descended in his family and was on display in 1998 at the Illinois Amish Interpretive Center at neighboring Arcola. The "Mutze", or suit coat, is of the old-fashioned "swallow-tail" cut with rounded corners hanging down some eight inches past the end of the sleeves. The long slit in the back allowed the wearer to easily ride a horse which often was done earlier in the 1800s, especially when traveling to communities at a distance.

The most unusual feature of Daniel's "Mutze" is the fabric, which is a coarse, dark-green gabardine. One might think that it was originally black and the dye changed color from constant exposure to light, but the seams have been opened and inspected and reveal the same dark-green color. The style of trousers predate the use of suspenders, having eyelets and a lace at the back to tighten the waist. Except for the color, this type of "Mutze" and trousers are still worn by the "Nebraska Amish" of Mifflin County, PA.

No. 11—JOSEPH SCHROCK, son of Daniel and Elizabeth. Two months after the fatal accident of his father, Joseph was ordained a minister to take his father's place. Joseph D. Schrock was ordained at the age of 25 years. He married Anna Yoder.

Joseph was in the ministry for 48 years. He died Oct. 23, 1938, aged 73 years, one month, and fourteen days, in his home. He often went to church by himself, as his wife stayed home with Polly and Mary, who were invalids. He drove a white horse with tiny black spots called "Roany." In the last few years he had a sorrel horse named Bill.

On September 21, 1936, between the hours of four and five in the morning, Joseph had the misfortune of falling down the cellar steps. When he attempted to go to the restroom, he mistakenly opened the cellar door instead, and fell down the basement steps, breaking his right arm just below the shoulder joint. He also hurt his knee, leg, head, and side. He called for Grandmother's help, who helped him up. She then called Andrew L. Mast, who was then living in the adjoining house. Dr. Phillips was called, also his son Joseph Jr. Schrock. Dr. Phillips took Joseph D. Schrock to St. Mary's Hospital in Decatur, Ill, accompanied by Joseph Jr. Schrock and Andrew L. Mast. His arm was set at the hospital, and Andrew stayed with him until in the afternoon, when Menno J. Schrock came to stay with him until the next day.

Joseph Jr. returned home with Dr. Phillips. The next night Mrs. Dave Yoder stayed with him. From then on, two at a time would take turns and stay at the hospital.

The morning of Oct. 7, he had a rather low spell from a heart attack. He had a weak heart anyway, and they thought the attack was brought on because his kidneys and bowels had not acted, which formed gas and worked on his heart.

When his arm was first set, they only taped it. The arm was not set correctly, but they thought it would come along alright. One week later they took another X-ray and found the fracture was not doing any good, so they set it again, this time it was set correctly. They also placed a splint upon the break, after which the X-ray showed the break was properly set. One week later another X-ray was taken, which showed the arm was still in place. Two weeks later this took place again.

He was released from the hospital and came home in the Fleming Ambulance on Oct. 20, 1936. His doctor was Doctor Rich, and his nurse was Amelia Gopshus.

This desk was stained with blood and milk.

Notice how the next to the bottom drawer is broken along the top. This was where the young children stepped on so they could reach the top drawer where the candy was kept.

Memories of Polly and Mary Schrock

Polly and Mary were two of God's special people. Polly had physical and mental disabilities. She was unable to talk or feed herself, and would often sit on a rocker and rock her body back and forth making her own little noises. They had a wooden wheel chair for her with a woven cane seat, a small swivel wheel in the back and large wheels on the side. She died at the age of 49 years 7 months and 16 days. Eight months to the day after her father passed away.

Mary was also unable to talk and had a mental disability, but was able to walk and could run like a deer. She was known to pinch when she wanted attention. She died at the age of 26 years 11 months and 16 days.

Grandma would usually stay home with the girls on Sunday unless someone else offered to stay. One Sunday when she went along to church Grandpa forgot and went home without her.

Fannie was deaf but could get her point across. One of her often repeated says was, "Shaffu, shaffu, shaffu, noe shtowva." (Work, work, work, then die.)

When talking about boyfriend and girlfriends, she would hold her thumbs together and make a kissing noise.
